

9th Annual Big Nasty Hillclimb Proves Nasty (as always)

By Ron Dillon

Idaho's largest motorcycle event, the 9th annual, Treasure Valley Ford Stores Big Nasty Hillclimb, fired up again on September 16-18, 2011 and brought together its usual eclectic mix of interesting hillclimbers, machines and fans. The event was the sixth and final round of the 2011 Racer X/Malcolm Smith Racing North American Hillclimb Association (NAHA) Championship Series, and once again pulled a record number of 702 entries from across the country.

Known as "Idaho's largest motorcycle event," and "The place where NASCAR meets Burning Man" the Nasty enjoyed perfect, 75 to 85 degree temperatures all weekend, and the typical Big Nasty, Woodstock/Burning Man feel continued. Children played in an inflatable toy area, Hollywood B and the West Coast Connection performed crotch rocket freestyle tricks all weekend, local bands played on Friday and Saturday nights, (Jagermeister brought in their incredible portable stage!), pumpkins were shot at the hill, and 500-horsepower air boat rides returned, along with the usual helicopter and mechanical bull rides.

In addition, med drags and RC car races were added, along with an all-new ATV test riding area and last year's ATV adventure rides returned and allowed people to take a guided trip around the 1,000 acre Tom Pence Ranch on their 4-wheelers. Food vendors served up everything from blooming onions to burgers and assorted clothing, vehicle and other products also dotted the venue. "We once again sold out of sponsor and vendor space" said event director, Ron Dillon. "For the fourth year in a row, we had to turn potential sponsors and vendors away, and interest in the event was greater than ever. We are continuing to pull people from a wider and wider geographical area, especially Washington and Oregon, in part because the new, Yakima, Washington Hillclimb has created a lot of interest in hillclimbing, and added new riders and machines."

For the fourth year, the 299-foot trophy hill was lighted and hundreds of trophy riders, from young to old, climbed under the stars on Friday and Saturday nights. The new, trophy hill remained largely "ledge-free" enabling a fair number of riders to get over it, and many of the trophy classes, such as the 450 4-stroke trophy classes, pulled as many as 65 riders.

The weekend's pro action began on Saturday morning, with pro qualifying run on a new, 250-foot, very steep, and choppy hill, laid out by operations manager Les Seal, that gave many riders fits because it was very steep and loose and quickly developed some tricky lines. For the first time in Big Nasty history, a couple of very talented AMA Pro Hillclimbers showed up from the East including Tiger Strank (Pennsylvania) and Colby McCutcheon (West Virginia) and everyone was eager to see how they would do in Big Nasty Land. Both riders easily qualified for every pro class that they entered, putting them right in the mix for Sunday's pro mains. Topping Saturday's qualifying however were the Beer boys from Columbus, Montana, with young Nick Beer, heading up the Open Pro qualifying with a blast of 6.808 seconds, and his dad, the legendary, 47-year old Dusty Beer, heading up the 700 Pro Qualifying for the second year in a row, with a time of 7.293 seconds. Crowd favorite, Californian Bret Peterson has been riding hot lately, and he topped the 450 class qualifying with a blast of 8.211 seconds.

A number of semi-pro classes were run on Saturday afternoon, with the over 50 year-old pro, women's pro, and mini bike pros all taking on the 570-foot "gully" version of the big hill. It was made slightly easier, by routing around its two, big ledges, but it was still a really, really ugly hill. Local rider Chase Seal drew thunderous applause as he took his stretched-out CR85 Honda up to nearly 400 feet to cap a record number of 21 pro minis, and another local rider, Dennis Harmon won the increasingly large 50-up pro class. Lodi California's Lefty Frueh once again had a strong weekend, winning the 60-up pro class and placing in several other younger pro classes, and at 69 years old, Lefty is showing no sign of slowing down, and the 250 semi-pro class pulled a record number of entries and was won for the second year in a row by Montana rider Corey Erhardt.

The number of women competing in hillclimbing is also steadily increasing, on both the trophy and pro levels as well, and the women's pro class on Saturday was a war zone with a record 14 entries. Jenny Kouba had to ride perfectly, (and she did) to win for the second year in a row, taking a stretched out CR500 Honda over in 11.558 seconds. Chelsea Smith came up from Concord, California and ripped over the top in just over 12 seconds, and Lexi and Brook, Whitlock were breathing down her neck for third and fourth. With the level of skill and guts that these women showed, it remains just a matter of time before a woman qualifies for one of the pro class mains. Yes, they are getting that good, and the old days of "powderpuff girls" are long gone.

Saturday's afternoon program also included the Rekluse Celebrity Challenge, that puts stock bikes on the big hill. Washington's Dan Stanley (a retired AMA pro flat tracker) won, climbing to a record 362 feet on a stock bike. Stanley also won the always tough 0-700cc, over-40 year old pro class, with Canadian Siz Seitz topping the 701-up, over 40 pro class.

Saturday night's show was designed to end by 11pm, and it did, even with a huge number of trophy entries. Austin Kouba, (Jenny Kouba's son) from nearby Star, Idaho, topped 64 other riders to win the prestigious 450, 4-stroke trophy class. Record numbers of riders entered in the Saturday night altered classes, and Oregon's Matt Morris won the 250 altered, with another Oregon rider, the always fast Shane Donaca, topping the 251-600cc altered class. The altered classes are growing faster than any other classes, and next year paddle tires (no steel) will be allowed to run in the altered divisions, which will make even more bikes eligible to play under the lights on Saturdays in the future.

As always Sunday's pro mains were deeply laced with talent, even more so than usual, because not only were all of the NAHA pros on hand, but a large contingent of talented riders from the Western States Hillclimb Series showed up, and of course two of the AMA Eastern Hillclimb Series stars, Colby McCutcheon and Tiger Strank were qualified and ready to go as well. Unlike last year when Harold, "The Gasser" Waddell won all three pro classes, this year's pro mains were a lot more diversified. Team Peterson/KTM rider Bret Peterson, riding out of Yorba Linda, California, looked very solid and together as he won the 450 pro main with a time of 15.741, nearly half a second faster than runner up Logan Mead also from California and Utah's Travis Whitlock.

"The Gasser" (Waddell) making his usual long drive out from Omaha, Nebraska, returned to his winning ways in the always ferociously competitive 700 pro main, repeating his win last year on his ungodly fast, 700 nitro Suzuki GSXR, over the always solid duo, Columbus, Montana rider Dusty Beer (KAW) and Travis Whitlock (KTM), out of Springville, Utah.

The weekend came to a close with the running of the Open class main, and Utah's Jason Smith put together a very smooth and fast run, pushing Waddell back to second, while Utah's Craig Spencer repeated his very solid third place finish from last year on his 1100 Suzuki GSXR.

Next year's Big Nasty will be held on September 15-17, 2012, and discussions are well underway on how to make Idaho's largest motorcycle event an even better show in the future.

The organizers wish to extend a hearty "helmets off" to the sponsors, donators and partners: the title sponsor, The Treasure Valley Ford Stores, Edge Performance, Coors Light, Jagermeister, Cycle City of Mountain Home, the United States Marines, Nationwide Insurance, Wingers, Octane Addictions, Carl's Cycles, Moto Tech, Les Schwab Tires, Stinker Stores, NAPA Auto Parts, Sprint, Rekluse, Fly Racing, Pro-Moto Billet, Timber Sled, the Idaho Lottery, 2Moto, Inhabited Clothing, Fast Lane, Snake River Stampede Whiskey, Kouba Link, Cyclops, Clutch World of Nampa, Durham Gravel Works, United Oil, The Double Diamond Saloon, Bad Ass Bikes, Pepsi, EZ Mart, HCD Construction, and the Clarion Inn.

A big thank you is also in order to the ranch owner, Tom Pence, and the small army of staff and volunteers who helped, including the Fly Racing, Big Nasty Catchers, headed by Derray Quarders, The event could also not have happened without the support of the Payette County Commissioners and law enforcement and medical personnel, as well as the Idaho State Police, and nearby landowners including George Colwell and Dan Bicandi.

Event DVDs are available, as well as t-shirts and hats. For more information visit the Big Nasty website at: www.bignastyhillclimb.com or call Ron Dillon at (208) 573-4255.
