Idaho’s largest motorcycle event, the 16th annual, 5CR Trailers Big Nasty Hillclimb, lit up once again on September 6-9, 2018 and brought together its usual combination of interesting hillclimbers, machines and fans. Because of the cancellation of NAHA round 4 in Pendleton, Oregon, this year’s Big Nasty hosted both the fourth and fifth and final round of the 2018 Excel Fabrication, Pole Position Raceway, Malcolm Smith Racing North American Hillclimb Association (NAHA) Championship Series.

For 2018 Big Nasty promoters worked hard to return the event to its family-friendly roots, and featured three evenings of terrific, family-oriented country music, which turned out to be a big hit. From now on, attendees can count on hearing talented country musicians at the event as well as lots of kids activities such as razor races, bouncy houses and inflatable water slides. For the first time ever, there were no arrests or controversy at the event, confirming that the only nasty part of the Big Nasty is the hill.

It took four full days to run the 745 pro, semi-pro and trophy entries that turned out, but there were no serious injuries throughout the event. It could be debated who had the best weekend. Montana’s Austin Cardwell finally added his name to the coveted King of the Hill trophy, pocketing $2,000 for a chance at the always-scary Big Nasty Cliff. Cardwell also won Saturday’s round 4 Open Pro Main, and finished in the cash in several other classes. Conversely, Washington’s Jake Anstett also rode exceptionally well, winning several pro classes and series championships during the weekend. California riders Logan Mead and Joe Shipman also went home with some cash, both of them turning in a number of very solid and stylish rides. And speaking of stylish, the almost 50 year-old, legendary Utah rider, Travis Whitlock, proved that there is some fire still left in him when he turned in a jaw-dropping ride to win Saturday’s Round 4 700 Pro Main. It was arguably his best-looking ride in years.

California’s Erik Schaffer didn’t win any pro cash, but as the oldest pro (age 59) and the only guy riding a Harley, he certainly was a crowd favorite. He rode really well, beating a number of younger guys all weekend in the Open and 700 pro classes.

The organizers wish to extend a hearty “helmets off” to the sponsors, donators and partners: the title sponsor, 5CR Trailers, Excel Fabrication, Tates Rents, Woody’s Outdoor Power, Buck’s 4X4, Rhino Rush, Redline Recreation, Aladdin Bail Bonds, Fireball Whiskey, Old Camp Whiskey, Dillon Toyota Lift, Papa Johns Pizza, Rekluse, Off-Road Vixens, Idaho

A big thank you is also in order to the ranch owner, Tom Pence, and the small army of staff and volunteers who helped, including the Excel Fabrication Big Nasty Catchers, headed by Derray Quarders and Mark Bell. The event could also not have happened without the support of the Payette County Commissioners, Vallivue High School Basketball and Payette County Sheriff's Department, and the New Plymouth Quick Response Unit. For more information visit the Big Nasty website at: www.bignastyhillclimb.com or call Ron Dillon at (208) 573-4255. Also check out YouTube, where dozens of clips are posted.

The annual Big Nasty Mud bog was muddy as usual. Spectators and racers alike couldn’t wait to jump into the black, smelly, bottomless mess for some reason…
